Dear [REDACTED] c [REDACTED],

Our initial deadline was 26th May, but there is some flexibility at our end.

I understand from [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] that we should be able to get the raw results to you in about a week, possibly sooner (say Thurs 9th May) (I'll need to double-check with them), but it will take us longer for us to get our full report to you (possibly about 20th May?).

Is that inline with your new expectations and new timetable?

[REDACTED] – comments?

Best Wishes,

[REDACTED].

[REDACTED] and team,

Thanks – I was worried about that – I'm working to a draft paper deadline of next Friday and I know Anne intended to speak with you about the analysis and when you may be able to get us your results. I appreciate this may or may not fit with your expectations! Could you let me know your anticipated timescales for a draft report please? I know that later in May was at one point discussed but internally our deadlines are now earlier so I'm seeing what will be available and when.

Many thanks and kind regards

Hello [REDACTED]

Anne is unfortunately [REDACTED] and so I can't confirm with her whether she was in touch with you last week on this work? Did she manage to speak with you? I'm currently tasked with pulling together the draft evidence report for the end of the initial 15 month trial period (lots of different sources including your work) and I'm not sure which deadlines have been communicated.....!

Kind regards
